

THE NEW DECEPTION - A LESSON IN BETRAYAL

The following is my opinion, based on years of research, life experience and real world evidence.

As we climb up the Mountain of Truth, we will inevitably encounter many teachers, tricksters and pied pipers along the way. Each one will have a new nugget of wisdom to impart on us, in our never ending journey of truth-seeking. We add these new pieces of knowledge to our toolbox and use them to help understand the bigger picture as we scale up the mountain. With the new tools, awareness and knowledge that we attain on our journey, comes a new understanding of not only what lies ahead, but how to navigate more effectively and efficiently.

But we must be ever so cautious, as these teachers will also feed us new lies, mixed in with their truths. You see, they don't actually want us to reach the top of the mountain, so they'll do their best to send us off on a different path. They will put forks in the road, cause confusion and lead us astray. Around every new bend and slope up the mountain, we run into another wand waving magician, looking to gain our trust.

Along the way, each of these false prophets will show us why and how the previous pied piper was deceiving us. We may not necessarily see the deception of each teacher until we receive the knowledge of the next one. Only then, after we process and reflect, can we look back down the mountain and understand why our previous thinking was wrong.

The most successful of these tricksters are the ones that show us a lot of truth and the ones that align with our personality types. What might be obvious to you, may not be so obvious to me. Knowing this, the power structure has placed all different types of swindlers on the mountain. The best deceivers are the ones that gain our trust by aligning with our personal biases and current understanding of "how things are."

These are the ones we should be the MOST careful with, even though we may learn a lot from them. They will use all sorts of methods to seduce us while they teach us important lessons. We can find a lot of value in their teachings, but at the same time, we must also learn to understand that they may be polluting our minds with new lies. These new lies will lead to new false leads and rabbits to chase. But if we chase the rabbit for too long, we'll find ourselves far away from the path we were on and may even end up further down the mountain.

This is why we must learn to follow our internal truth compass and let it guide us up the mountain, rather than allow others to show us the way. They may appear to be helpful but they will ultimately slow us down.

They may also choose not to reveal their hand until much later in the game. They gain our trust by helping us, but only to lead us onto a new path, and then betray us after we have invested our time and energy into following them.

What is important to learn on this journey up the mountain is the concept of NON-ATTACHMENT.

We must learn to appreciate what the deceivers taught us while recognizing the new layers of deception that we didn't see before. We must then learn to discard them and continue on our path, not theirs. Our path becomes clear when we follow our compass (intuition) and do our own research, instead of relying on them to do it for us.

In the COVID-19 PsyOp we learned quickly that the deceivers at the base of the mountain were lying about a "virus" that jumped from a bat to a human and started a Global Pandemic. Some of us knew it right away because those lies were obvious. We then ran into new fear merchants who wanted to sell us lies about Gain of Function and Lab Leaked Bioweapons. Those lies were less obvious but still pretty easy to figure out.

As we scale up the mountain, the tricks become more clever and the lies more difficult to navigate. The mountain's paths become steep and windy and more dangerous. Perhaps we may also encounter heavy vegetation that makes it difficult to see because our vision has been clouded.

Indeed, they have attempted to misdirect us with Spike Proteins, Variants, mRNA Gene Alteration, Nano-Bots, White-Hats, Patents, Aliens, Graphene Oxide, Antibody Dependent Enhancement, etc. etc. etc.

Many times the teachers will combine forces and attempt to convince us to "join their movement" or sign up for their seminars and workshops. Do it for the cause. Join the resistance. They will always represent themselves as being on our side in "the fight for truth" against the "system."

We can learn valuable lessons from them, and we should welcome their teachings. We should listen to their lectures and read their books. But we must also understand that the Kaufmans, the Cowans, and even the beloved Lankas will eventually betray us.

But how? How do we discern?

We can only learn along the way. The further up the mountain we go, the easier it becomes to recognize some of their formats and strategies. Once we understand a few simple concepts, it becomes very easy.

One of the biggest red flags is FILM. Film is one of the most effective Propaganda tools. Whenever we see a slick production, we should be extremely skeptical right off the bat.

Some other red flags are when the teachers are served to us on a silver platter, or when they are thrust into our consciousness as “thought leaders” or “experts.”

Perhaps they have something to sell us, or perhaps they are gaining a “following.” When these folks “arrive on the scene” and suddenly everyone is aware of them, that’s another red flag.

We should also beware of manufactured division, infighting, Celebrity Truthers with Follow buttons on their Facebook pages or those who “make the rounds” giving interviews to all the same so called “alternative” media outlets. They’re all part of the network, and even though some of them may not even know it, they serve the elite globalist agenda.

The higher up the mountain we go, the more clever their techniques become. Sometimes we don’t see it immediately, because we think they’re not guarding the gates that lead to the top of the mountain. This is because we still have more to learn and unlearn, so they seem sincere and authentic, based on our current level of understanding and awareness.

Now we have a new Film to question. So, what’s the angle here? Where is the swerve? Hard to say without seeing the film, but it seems these folks will try to funnel us into a new deception.

I suspect they may try to employ new theories, recycled ones, or perhaps eventually even some trashy New Age concepts and pseudoscience. But even without watching the film, what do we know about it?

We know that it is being promoted and pimped / produced by True Healing Conference.

Whoever these folks are, they seem to be promoting a new scam, something they call "The New Biology."

Brought to you by Dr. Thomas Cowan and Dr. Andrew Kauffman.

Well, I had relied on these gentlemen in the early days of the fake pandemic for information about Virology. I read Thomas Cowan's book, I watched their interviews and lectures.

At some point I stopped sharing their information because it became obvious that they were part of the network, they just hadn't revealed themselves yet. But it was clear that there was a setup coming, and now it has been revealed.

"Join us to learn about the Amazing Healing Power of Water, Tuning the Human Biofield, Cymatics, Orgone energy, Holographic Bio-Photons and the inherent healing forces of life."

Here we go. Surely they will have new, expensive products and more pseudoscience to sell us. No doubt they will tour the country, speaking at conferences and selling lots of tickets. So feel free to look up some of those terms and do your own research. You can start at Wikipedia but don't just trust Wikipedia, because they are liars, too. Wikipedia should only be used as a starting point and only with extreme skepticism. But you can find nuggets of truth buried in the mountain of mainstream spin at Wikipedia as well. We must look for the misdirects and use discernment.

Orgone - <https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Orgone>

Cymatics - <https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Cymatics>

From their About Me Page, we can learn quickly that they will be hosting a Conference in a few weeks and you can join for anywhere between $50 - $150 dollars for the Livestream.

Good Health isn't free, didn't you know that?

The best way to discredit the truth after all, is to give it to liars and clowns and let them do their jobs. They will embarrass us and discredit us along the way. Is there no more qualified clown to do this, than David Icke? What a perfect agent to align with in order to discredit the rest of us.

So why are they doing this? Because they're still guarding the gates, that's why. They don't really want us to know what causes illness and disease or to discover the real keys to healthy living. They want to sell more products and half-truths. They want our money. What other gates are they guarding? Perhaps they don't want us to know the truth about DNA as well. Perhaps they don't want us to understand how truly powerful we really are, because if we understand that, then the gravy train comes to a grinding halt.

As we continue up the mountain we will discover new gates that we didn't even know existed. We think we can see the summit but once we reach it with a new perspective, we realize that we're only half the way there. There's another mountain to climb behind this one, we just didn't see it before.

These characters will do everything they can to divert, distract and mislead us, while pretending that they are on our side. Rest assured, one by one - they will betray us.

So they spent over a year gaining our trust and now that they have presented themselves as our allies and have helped us to unlearn some of the lies and propaganda about Germ Theory and the pseudoscience of Virology, they will insist that we must replace the previous lies with new lies and follow them as they show us the way and teach us about their new theories, representing these as the truth. But remember - that path only leads us further away from the summit.

We don't need new lies to replace the old ones. So beware and be careful when they try to sell us a new paradigm or spin us off into New Age Concepts or new illusions. I suspect some of these folks will try to seduce and corrupt us with German New Medicine concepts, for example.

We've made it so far up the mountain, they must misdirect us and dazzle us, yet again. Yes, some (not all), helped us understand the fraud of Virology and the lie of Germ Theory. We can be grateful for those lessons. But their betrayal began awhile ago and now it has become obvious as they reveal themselves with this film and their new conference and movement.

The time has come to discard them. Toss them into the trash where they belong. By all means take the time to listen to their new BS, but ultimately we must cast them into the fire.

“But how can you say that, without knowing what it is?”

The same way I knew that Plandemic was limited hangout, propaganda trash before I even watched it. These operations will always have a certain quality, style and production to them. They use the same templates and propaganda techniques.

Just look at their website, for starters. Look at their network and who they align with...learn to recognize the deception.

Look at the filmmaker's previous film “Dirt Rich” for a clue.

Marcelina Cravat is the daughter of Hollywood Actor Nick Cravat. Her film Dirt

Rich “explores solutions to reverse the effects of global warming by re-stabilizing safe atmospheric carbon levels by returning carbon to the soil.”

In other words, she has a documented history of producing propaganda films.

It should have been obvious once Dr. Kauffman hosted Alex Jones’s trashy Info Wars show that he would double-cross and discredit us with a new layer of deception. It should have been even more obvious once they started associating with UN Globalist Puppet Sacha Stone.

Even one of my favorites, Dr. Sam Bailey has proven that she is but a cute little Gatekeeper. Her lessons have been worthwhile along the way – and I’m grateful for those lessons – and I still recommend Virus Mania to those who are comfortably fast asleep and dreaming.

But it's time to discard her as well. We are too far up the mountain now. We have learned too much. Sesame Street is great for children, but eventually, when we grow up and mature, it's no longer interesting and we don't learn anything from Big Bird anymore.

Regarding German New Medicine as an example (and new paradigms in general), a fellow researcher writes:

"They [GNM] say the physical body creates a disease after an emotional shock to the psyche as a means to transfer the pain to the body to relieve the psyche, giving it a chance to resolve the trauma.

That makes no sense.

It's not like you're going to forget about the emotional stress and that pain will magically go away.

So by sound logic, the physical corresponding disease will DOUBLE your pain and suffering.

German new medicine correctly identifies the fraud of germ theory and by which they trojan horse their way into serious health discussion only to replace germ theory with what amounts to a modern variation of demon possession.

Before germ theory demonic possession of some kind going back to antiquity was considered the cause of disease.

And so the clown priests of religion enjoyed positions of authority concerning human health.

Along comes germ theory with its quasi scientific white coat patina and steals the show, replacing the clown in the priestly robes with the sanitized white coat doctors of allopathic medicine who are nonetheless equal in deception and clown logic.

Allopathic medicine stole the show from an openly faith based understanding of disease

German New Medicine is an attempt to steal that show back...

....
...If one poisons oneself with species inappropriate, garbage food, drugs/meds and substance abuse of all kinds one will manifest a state of physical disease.

Conversely, the only way to clarify and prevent disease is to remove these causes and let the body detoxify and repair.

It is that simple.

Any attempt to complexify this reality is no doubt a measure of deceptive manipulation designed to create a problem for which is provided a solution for sale.

The human body requires no help performing the process of healing (other than the providence of clean, whole, species appropriate energy/food and avoidance of toxic substances).

In fact all forms of so called "healing arts" are nothing but more convoluted symptom suppression techniques mistaken for cure and/or deification of the ego as master of healing by power of faith.

We don't need to discover how to heal with 5 biological laws, seven steps to homeostasis, biofield energy manipulation or figuring out the right structure of water to consume.

The only thing the human body demands from us is clean species appropriate food, the essential elements of clean water, air, sunlight, appropriate sleep and of course no toxic substances of any kind.

That's how one clarifies and avoids all disease and it's no more complicated than that.

The body is the teacher.

Nature is the Master.

We need to realize the elder energies of our eternal root, to take a step BACK into the forgotten and flawless genius of nature itself.

Our ignorance of the angelic nature and innate wisdom of our Body and its role as the root of our spiritual well being while focusing upon a worship of the ego and its convoluted attempts to reinvent something that already works to perfection are the root of our troubles here on Earth.

These "New" Paradigms are nothing but a repackaging of a Narcissistic affliction that has plagued humanity since antiquity: an unhealthy unwillingness to accept responsibility for our actions and instead manifest delusional models which treat the symptoms of our ignorance as the path to homeostasis.

Stop treating symptoms.

Start Removing cause.

This simplicity of human health at this point is so novel an idea that perhaps it has become the True New."

This eloquent explanation highlights how deceivers will hijack the truth, mix it up in confusion and lies, and then repackage it and sell us the same old lies with a shiny new twist.

The Cowans and Kaufmans now want to sell us a new theory to latch onto, which they call "The New Biology." I suspect they will employ some German New Medicine concepts and wrap it all up in more nonsense and diversion. Whether it's German New Medicine, New Biology or something else, all it really is – is NEW DECEPTION.

Surely the natural tendency for some, will be to run and support these folks in their new venture. Many will jump at the chance to give them money to "support the cause." These instincts are normal, natural. Because these psyop-puppets prey on our most honorable and genuine human characteristics, and because we didn't understand the ubiquity and depth of deceit, we are unwitting victims. Until we're not.

Once we understand the mechanisms and intricate details of the psyop and its multiple layers of deception, we begin to recognize the same patterns within the new agents, as we saw in the previous ones.

Once we understand the template, we can apply it to those we encounter as we climb the mountain. Have you heard the prolific voices on social media who cry in despair about the conversation of controlled opposition? They scurry like cockroaches every time it comes up, running to defend the network of deceivers – calling it controversial and antithetical to the movement, or “dangerous to the community.”

They want us to believe that these conversations disperse and divide the resistance. That is gaslighting, and if you've said it, you've unconsciously adopted it. The ultimate truths of our reality are ready and waiting for those of us who won't allow tricksters and gatekeepers to thwart our ascent.
