

This text is copied from:

http://web.archive.org/web/20050124155709/http://www.jimduensing.com/we\_must\_honor\_the\_victims.html on 2020-01-30 because a print would only access the first paragraph of the article. FP

We Must Honor the Victims

September 12th, 2001

Images of victims climbing half out of broken skyscraper windows choosing whether to plunge to their death before being consumed by a conflagration, which began when hijacked planes crashed into the World Trade Center, will forever be etched in my mind.

Accounts of wheelchair bound individuals being trampled at the top of a staircase they can't go down, of emergency workers who lost their lives while attempting to save strangers, of a cell phone conversation between a mother and her hijacked son as he approaches his doom, and many more similar personal stories will be told over and over again.

Hopefully, they will not be forgotten.

If the victims of Tuesday's terrorist attack are to be properly honored it is incumbent upon we the survivors to hold accountable all of those responsible for the greatest terrorist attack in the history of the world.

We must uncover the truth. We owe it to the victims.

Unfortunately a question which, if answered, would shed great light upon the identity of the terrorists has gone largely unasked by the mainstream media.

How did each tower implode?

Demolition experts will tell you that towers are the most difficult buildings to bring down in a controlled manner. A tower tends to fall like a tree, unless the direction of its fall is controlled by directional charges.

Each Trade Center tower was perfectly "smokestacked" - its fall was completely contained by the boundaries of its foundation. This could not have happened coincidentally. It must have been accomplished by strategically placed and precisely timed internal charges. Video coverage clearly shows internal charges precipitating and accompanying the controlled demolition of each tower.

Why does the official story not recognize the implosion?

Why is the media not demanding an answer to this most important question?

Who could have placed the charges?

Vigilance to justice is the duty we the living owe to those who suffered a horrific death at the hands of these terrorists.

Let us pledge never to rest until these questions are answered and until justice has been done.

We owe it to the children who will never see mommy or daddy again.

To widowed husbands and wives.

To mothers and fathers who witnessed their children's death on national television.

To friends and loved ones who never got to say goodbye.

To ourselves - if we are ever again to hold our heads high as individuals and as a nation.

We must honor the victims.

JimDuensing.com

© Jim Duensing 2001
All Rights Reserved Worldwide

linkcode = http://www.JimDuensing.com/we\_must\_honor\_the\_victims.html